	Savings	$ 5,003.80

City Council/Police/Citadel;

Councilman Lewis was absent due to illness.

Councilman Gregorie reports that the city has the funds available for the Longborough dock. The dock will be located at the end of the spit, come to a T, with one side private dock with slips and the other without that is public. Petar Lemajic asked about access to the new dock. The public dock will be open to all, from dawn to dusk.

New Business:

Mike Turner asked about the house on the SW corner of 10th and Gordon. Councilman Gregorie said a stop work order was given. No new info on what is next.

Sis Marshall is heading the nomination committee for the up-coming board elections. All four board officers are to be replaced. Sis, Mike Turner, Alston Middleton and Lyn Smith are on the nominating committee. Anyone wanting to serve can have their name placed on the ballot for the June voting. Please read the By-Laws, which Petar will post on the website.

On-Going/Old Business:

Oyster Roast and BBQ Jan 12, 2020

Anna McAllister continues to take orders for trees; $295, half covered by WTNA

Gail Thomas went in front of the Design Review Committee and the design was approved for the Wagener Terrace welcome sign and the association approved the funds to have it constructed. We must also agree to maintain the sign and have either Jason Kronsburg or Clark DeCiantis on site to approve location.

Melissa Ingersoll from the Charleston Parks Conservancy inquired about a donation for the Corrine Jones garden and Alston reports that the board has yet to meet but will with two weeks and a decision will be made at that time.

Members and Residents

Sunshine – Charles Shine is out of the hospital and Sis suggests we keep our ailing neighbors in our prayers.

Presentations/ Future Scheduling:

Derek Snook spoke about "Co-Life," which he founded, that connects people with extra space/bedroom with someone in need of a safe place to live. It would provide extra income and companionship. Loneliness is a major problem with the elderly. It works on referrals from trusted mutual friends. The initial goal is to match 20 locals to 20 people in need.

Jason Sakran is running for City Council District 3. He is a small business owner of Bon Banh Mi Asian Kitchen and is the Director of CCSD's Kaleidoscope after school program.
Website: electjasonsakran.com
He has three major focus points:

1. A vision for tomorrow.
2. Communicating more effectively with citizens using multiple forms of media.
3. Unifying our district which includes parts of West Ashley, Wagener Terrace, North Central and Hampton Park Terrace.
